

James Todd Wadlington

January 22, 1966 - July 6, 2022

James Todd Wadlington, better known as Todd, was born on January 22, 1966, to Charlotte A. and the late James H. Wadlington in Cadiz, Kentucky. Todd accepted Christ as his personal savior at an early age. He was baptized at New Garfield Missionary Baptist Church. Todd received his education through Indianapolis Public Schools and later obtained his GED. He served as a carpenter, a bricklayer, and many other roles throughout the years but spent many years at Bodycote where he served in various departments throughout the company. Todd was admired by all who knew him and was a significant force on the south side of Indianapolis. He loved to laugh and had a contagious smile that lit up a room. He was always in a good mood, had a playful nature, and was genuinely happy, spreading positivity to those in his company. Todd had an extreme love for music. Some of his favorite artists were Trigger Man, Run-DMC, Eric B. & Rakim, Sugar Hill Gang, Beastie Boys, and LL Cool J, coincidentally “James Todd”. He was an expert in sound system installation. As such, the bass from his music could be heard from several blocks away! Young men and women alike looked up to Todd because of his neat appearance, fresh clothing, overall presence, words of encouragement, and wisdom. Todd had a passion for cooking and enjoyed a good applesauce and bread combo and chicken & dumplings. Todd departed this life on Wednesday, July 6th, 2022, at the age of 56 years old. He is preceded in death by his father James H. Wadlington and baby sister Virgie “Renee” Wade. He leaves his loving mother, Charlotte A. Wadlington, his daughter Terre J. Clark (Jason), son James Todd "T-Jay" Wadlington Jr., daughter Tennisha L. Wadlington, 5 grandchildren , Jasmine Clark, Jaida Clark, Donisha Allen , Jenesis Clark, and Jason "Deuce" Clark II, sister Arletta "Twinko" Wadlington, brother Bruce Wadlington (Laura), and a host of nieces, nephews, loving relatives, and friends.
