Honoring the Legacy of Aunt Leona Swanson

She was not just an aunt, she was strength, love, and joy.

Reflecting on her life, memories flood my mind, each one a testament to her vibrant spirit and unwavering devotion to those she held dear. Aunt Leona was the one who gave me my first Jerry curl, I thought I was so cute.

Her BBQ's and parties were legendary affairs, filled with laughter, delicious food, and music . Aunt Leona poured her heart into every gathering, to make sure everyone had a good time.

Above all else, Aunt Leona adored her children with a love that knew no bounds. They were her world, her reason for everything she did. Her dedication to them was unwavering.

With her infectious laughter, captivating beauty, and effortless dance moves, Aunt Leona brought joy to every room she entered. She was a true workaholic, believing wholeheartedly in the value of hard work and the importance of providing for her family.

I can still picture her in her sharp fur coats, a vision of elegance and sophistication. Aunt Leona was not just a talented cook and hairstylist; she was also a trusted confidante and a compassionate listener. She had a way of making you feel seen and understood in any situation.

Her love extended beyond her immediate family, she was crazy about her big brother, my dad, the late Aaron Hurley and everyone else she held dear. Aunt Leona was fiercely protective of her family, a force to be reckoned with if you found yourself on her bad side.

Despite juggling multiple jobs, Aunt Leona never missed a beat. She was the epitome of resilience and determination, a shining example of strength in the face of adversity.

And let's not forget her beloved dog, Buck, who held a special place in her heart.

I will always treasure our phone conversations, where she would call just to check in and make sure I was okay. Her love for me was unwavering, just as mine was for her.

I celebrate the incredible woman she was and the indelible mark she left on my life. She will be deeply missed but never forgotten.

With love and cherished memories,

Michelle Hurley-Jackson
