“ Dear Secoya - You were the first student who every caused me to belly laugh out loud, think very deeply, and maybe even cry (don't tell anyone) all in the same day! You taught me more about how to be better teacher than any student I've ever had. And you were also one of the best, if not the best, mathematicians I ever taught!

You've had and will continue to have a positive influence on young student's lives through me by what you taught me. I hope that your family will know this and perhaps it will bring some peace to them by knowing you will be helping kids for years to come.

You're the only student that ever caused me to curse in the classroom and the laugh we had together after I got in trouble will be one of many fond memories of you that I will keep forever.

I wish I would've had the chance to tell you this in person. Save me a chair in heaven so we can laugh and learn again together.

“ Secoya, my beautiful friend. This has broken my heart tremendously. I have known you for a short period of time but working with you for the past two months we have grown so close. We saw each other more than we seen our own families. I never knew that when we said goodbye to each other that final night it would be the last time I would ever see you alive. You are more than a kind person and I will cherish every picture, video and every silly moment we had together. I just hope you are resting in peace baby girl. I know here on this earth you were truly a walking angel. I am so HONORED to have been apart of your life.

“A blessing from God.” God put Secoya in our lives as a blessing. He is not punishing us by taking her away. He said ok, your time is up. I let you guys have her 25 years. I need her back home with me. What is sad to us, is really a blessing from God. As we know God does not make mistakes. I will always remember ur smile. Luv u Aunt Mary “ Se-Coy-Coy, I miss you laughing at me and your Mommy being on the phone EVERYDAY and hearing you say, “Hi, Cousin Vonne!”. I love how you and the baby cousins call me Cousin Vonne, too cute. Rest-in-peace babygirl. Your energy is so infectious. Even though we all fussed, lol, I’m so glad you got to spend your 25th bday bday in Vegas. You are truly gone too soon. Love you.
